

“Mum, I’m sorry, this is NOT what I want to do!”

Jane replied slowly. Her mother looked worried.

“Honey, your dad agrees with me, we’re not telling you to give up your passion! Maybe you should consider other options...,” her mother answered calmly.

“Mum? Do you really want me to be happy?,” Jane asked.

“Of course we do!,” her dad interjected.

“Law is a family tradition. However, if you want to pursue your dreams, we will support you. Still, your mother and I are worried about your future.,” her dad explained seriously.

“Thank you, your support means the world to me,”

Jane sobbed.

“You are our daughter, all we want is for you to be happy and healthy,” her mother answered.